Client

Nigeria based venture funded startup Company.

Business Needs

To design a social networking application that can be used for interacting with friends and also help the users in updating themselves regarding basic worldwide news and lots more. Application will be with various independent sub modules which will be of plug and play type so that they are independent of each other and do not affect the working of other modules.

Solution Overview

- Sub-modules will be launched with the help of the dashboard on the main application.
- Each sub-module will have clickable icons for their launch.
- Search module will be there to find specific type of sub-module
- Dashboard, the part of the main application will be in the form of a grid and dynamic in nature
